Less than two months into this school year, the number of reported coronavirus cases among students in Texas' public schools has surpassed the total from the entire 2020-21 school year, according to Texas Education Agency data.

Weatherford Democrat

Schools are reporting fewer COVID cases

The number of newly reported COVID-19 cases in public school students appears to be trending down compared to the beginning of the academic year, state and local district data show. The number of new student cases reported by the state each week has decreased significantly in the last month. During the week ending September 5th, the Texas Education Agency reported 42,552 new student cases. For the week ending September 26th, there were 12,614 new student cases. Other indicators, including falling pediatric hospitalizations and decreasing numbers of newly reported COVID infections in the overall state population, appear to support the downward movement among children. Dr. James Versalovic, pathologist-in-chief at Texas Children's Hospital in the Texas Medical Center, said: "I am quite hopeful that we have seen the biggest surge of this pandemic. This pandemic has certainly been challenging, and it has been difficult to predict what's around every corner. But it's hard to imagine anything rivaling the delta surge at least in the foreseeable future."

Houston Chronicle

- For the 2021-2022 School Year to date:

- o Keep sending kids to the clinic if they are sick. Also, if you take their temperature with the forehead thermometer and it is high (remember that a temp is not a fever until  $\geq 100.4$ ) consider checking with the regular under the tongue thermometer. The fourth topic of discussion was Communities In Schools Updates presented by Misty Stockwell.

- Bay Colony Elementary:
  - Ms. Loza has been doing lots of check-ins with her students, providing academic support, social emotional support and rewarding students that reach their goals (rewards include lunch with her in her office, playing basketball with her, or picking a prize from her prize box). Ms. Loza's big campus wide activity was the Great Kindness Challenge. They did a drawing with students who completed their Kindness Checklists. She also had a lot of interactive activities for students. They decorated Kindness posters and they were hung around the school. She also had some students take the pledge to be the "I" in KIND. Students loved that. The next Journey of Hope group will begin soon with the counselor. We are preparing for Career Day by reaching out to the community to send videos of their careers so they can be presented to the students.
- Silbernagel Elementary:
  - Continue to be a supportive presence to both students and staff. In January we started an attendance incentive for students to Beat the Bell. If students are in their seats when the bell rings and their name is called then they win a prize and are entered to win a new tablet at the end of the semester. Also, in January we participated with our Counselor in the Great Kindness Challenge. Each day two students from each class that met the challenge of the day were able to choose a prize. We continue to reinforce Character Strong with our SEL group activities and 4th grade journals. Silbernagel is gearing up for Career Day next month and we are reaching out to the community for presenters to join us on that day.
- Dickinson High School:
  - Ms. Mark is meeting with Seniors to assist them with prom dresses and caps and gowns. Operation Cinderella and Balfour both support CIS students in need. Ms.

Stephens continues to provide hygiene kits and has reached out to Always for support through their Growth & Development at Puberty Program.

- All campuses continue to meet the needs of our most vulnerable populations with food, clothes, and most importantly emotional support.

The fifth topic of discussion was Nursing Updates presented by Margaret Miller.

- Welcome New Nurse Shelby Maudlin to Hughes Road Elementary.
- Campus Nurses continue to ensure all students are compliant with state mandated immunizations.
- Middle School Nurses are working on verifying that 6th grade students have the required immunizations for 7th grade. Nurses will be sending out letters to notify parents of students that do not meet the immunization requirement for 7th grade. This will allow plenty of time for students to receive these immunizations prior to starting the 7th grade.
- Middle School Nurses are preparing to present Puberty Education to 5th grade boys and girls.
- COVID Antigen testing is available for employees only at the following campuses: Education Support Center, Barber Middle School, Lobit Education Village and KE Little Elementary. Please call the campus nurse directly or the ESC to schedule an appointment.
- Students who are needing to be tested for COVID or Flu may schedule an appointment at the Gator Hope Clinic.
- Campus Nurses continue to follow-up on hearing and vision referrals.
- On February 5th, Campus Nurses participated in the Texas Children's Hospital 2022 Virtual Diabetes Management Conference.

The sixth topic of discussion was Gator Hope Clinic Updates presented by Nancy Lounds. All information presented here is from the Gator HOPE Clinic only and does not represent any scientific data unless specified.

- Numbers are finally going down for staff and students with covid, though there are a lot more symptomatic patients than what are showing positive for Covid on the tests. The new tests that we received (GenBody) do not appear to be as accurate, especially early in the illness.
- What I am seeing is that it is taking up to 3 days from symptom onset before the test shows a positive, sometimes longer. This is presenting a problem with attendance since sending students or staff back to school with symptoms is not wise, but the tests are negative. We try to send them for PCR but not everyone wants to do that, or they do not have the transportation.
- Positive flu tests are sporadic currently, but flu is present in the area and has been since approximately right after Christmas break.
- Several nurses are testing staff at their respective schools which has lightened our load here in the clinic. Our highest number of patients in a day has reached 66, which is unprecedented even when I was giving the Covid vaccine. Our current daily patient rate is between 30-45 depending on the day.

- o Please remember that even a runny nose and nasal congestion can be symptoms of Covid right now. Most of the staff that I see have disregarded those symptoms as allergies and then tested positive.
- o Since Omicron is not following any of the normal rules, you also need to know that the CDC is considering changing the 90-day rule (before you can get reinfected with Covid). In the Gator Clinic, I have 2 people that have tested positive again after six weeks and we know it is due to a new infection. I have spoken with the Galveston County Health Dept and they have confirmed that they have had staff members get reinfected after approximately 6 weeks also. So, keep this in mind when considering whether someone needs testing.
- o Just a reminder that the Gator HOPE Clinic is closed if the district is closed (like the cold weather day) and will be closed for Spring Break.

The seventh topic of discussion was Food and Nutrition Updates presented by Randi Boleman.

- FNS was awarded ‘Best of the Bunch’ for Texas Department of Agriculture’s Local Products Challenge
- FNS continues to struggle with product (food & non-food) supply shortages.
  - o On a positive note, the supply shortages have allowed us to experiment with new menu items and gauge acceptability.
- USDA announced a Final Rule establishing new, temporary milk, whole grain, and sodium standards for school meals for SY 2022-23 through SY 2023-24.
  - o Whole Grains: At least 80% of the grains served in school lunch and breakfast each week must be whole grain rich.
  - o Sodium: The weekly sodium limit for school lunch and breakfast will remain at Target 1 in SY2022-23. For school lunch only, there will be a 10% decrease in the limit in SY2023-24.
  - o Milk: Schools and childcare providers serving participants ages six and older may offer flavored low-fat (1%) milk in addition to nonfat flavored milk and nonfat or low-fat unflavored milk.
